THE GERMANS AND THEIR COUNTRY

Germany has many attractions and offers more than beer, cuckoo clocks and the Neuschwanstein Castle.

Many people abroad associate Germany with big cars, sauerkraut, beer and also with classic music, poets and thinkers like Goethe and Schiller. Besides, keywords like „The Second War“, „The Berlin Wall“ cross the mind of the foreigners, when they think about Germany. The label „Made in Germany“ stands for high quality and reliability. Germany enjoys a good reputation worldwide. The favourite travel destinations of tourists are Munich and the Neuschwanstein Castle, Roman Mainz and Cologne on the Father Rhine River, Heidelberg etc.

German efficiency and reliability is highly appreciated all over the world. It is said that Germans are reliable and punctual, but also friendly and helpful.

Germans have a special passion for football too, 2006 gave them a special bonus of sympathy. German films attract world-wide attention.

To build a true image of Germany, you should come and see it by yourself, because seeing is believing!

ARE THE GERMANS SUPERSTITIOUS?

Black cats, chimney sweepers, lucky pigs... the faith in lucky charms and the fatal harbringer are becoming ever more popular in Germany. Every other German believes in the positive effect of a four-leaf clover. One in four Germans associates the number 13 with bad luck. Here are some examples for typical German lucky charms, have you heard of them before?

TYPICAL GERMAN LUCKY CHARMS

LUCKY PIG

Already for the Germanic peoples, the boar was a holy animal. A pig is therefore the sign of wealth and richness, as it was always seen as a symbol of fertility and power. Besides, the Greeks and the Romans believed those people as privileged, if they had many pigs, so ...much nutrition. It is very popular to give away marzipan pigs, especially for New Year's Eve. In the middle ages a pig was always a consolation gift. You may hear the German saying „Schwein haben“, it means „one is lucky“.

HORSE SHOE

As a horse was always a symbol of strength and power, but also a noble and precious animal, the horse shoe, which protected the animal, was also seen as a lucky charm. As shoeing a horse was found by the Romans, the horse shoe in all nations became a symbol of lucky charm, because it also protected the precious animal. Especially for farmers it was said to bring much luck, to find a horse shoe. In the past the horse shoe was clamped on ships, to assure a safe voyage. If you clamp it on the door, it shall protect your home from evil, especially in the position similar to the letter „C“ as in „Christ“.

LUCKY PENNY

The lucky penny or the Glückspfennig, as it is called in German, is the symbol of richness. Giving it away – physically, as well as symbolically, means you wish that this person will never run out of money. The historical background: the lucky penny is seen as a small disbursement of the golden Thaler, which you must always have with you. It is supposed to bring good luck and to protect its owners from evil.

CHIMNEY SWEEPER

In the past it was a disaster for a household, if the chimney was plugged up or drew badly, as it was impossible to make a meal and it was cold. In this case the only salvation was a chimney sweeper. With him, the luck returned back home. Nowadays it shall bring luck, if you touch the golden button on his jacket.

FOUR-LEAF CLOVER

As four-leaf clovers are very rare in the nature, you need to have a little bit of luck, to find one. It is important that four-leaf clovers had been found by pure chance. During travels it should protect the traveler from evil. There is a biblical connotation to it: Eve Bible has taken the four-leaf clover in memory of the paradise. So if you happen to be the holder of a four-leaf clover, you can consider yourself the holder of a small part of paradise.

SUMMER CAMP FOR JUNIORS IN AUGSBURG

INTERESTING ABOUT AUGSBURG

Augsburg is the third oldest German city after Neuss and Trier. It was founded by the Romans in 15BC. The city had always been at the nexus of European trade, but its glory days arrived in Early Modern Age when the Fugger and Welser banking families amassed inconceivable wealth. That gave Augsburg the first Renaissance buildings north of the Alps, at the sublime City Hall and the lavish residence of the Fugger family.

Augsburg's churches and galleries are brimming with Renaissance art, while the central Maximilianstraße has long rows of historic facades and three Mannerist fountains built for the city's 1,600th birthday. With wealth came culture, and Hans Holbein the Elder and Leopold Mozart are just two Augsburg citizens who helped change the course of art and music. FULL IMMERSION PROGRAMS

LIVING & LEARNING AT TEACHER'S HOME

The Full immersion program is the program involving you totally in the language environment, so you are not only learning German language during lessons, but also apart from the classes. The private atmosphere encourages you unconsciously to speak German free without any inhibitions. The teacher will instruct you not only during the lessons but all the time.

In this program you get rid of daily travelling to and from school and of contact with any students speaking your mother language. This is the best opportunity for one's experience, living with and being taught by the private teacher. In some cases, you can be placed in a German family and a teacher comes daily to you for giving lessons. The advantage of such program is - listening German speech from the different parts. This supports your listening comprehension. After the classes the learning process goes on, as you participate in the family's daily and social activities, taking part in the life of a typical German family as any family member. This way you learn the mentality of the culture, what gives you the opportunity to get the feeling for the language in its natural environment, so you 'live the language'.

All homes and teachers have been carefully selected. Verbum Novum tries to look for the perfect family to match your interests and age. All teachers have either a teaching certificate or a university degree (or an accepted equivalent).

This program is available for students without any age restrictions and can be started on any convenient day. 2 students traveling together can also participate on this program at reduced cost as long as they arrive and depart together and both participants are at the same language level. If these conditions are fulfilled, they can share the teacher.

STUDIENKOLLEG PLACEMENT ASSISTANCE

WHAT IS STUDIENKOLLEG?

Studienkollegs are predominantly the state educational institutions, where the study applicants with the foreign university admission qualification, which is not equivalent to the German Abitur (qualification for university entrance), will be prepared for the academic study at the German University.

Whether the studienkolleg has to be attended or the foreign applicant has the direct admission to the University in Germany, the qualifications approval office of the university (or other institution), with whom we get in touch within our service "university placement assistance", will decide about it. The visit of the Studienkolleg is mostly free of charge, although the college students have to pay one small semester fee. The college students will be prepared subject-specific within 2 semesters (1 year) course for the university study. Depending on the chosen faculty the college students will be allocated to the adequate specific courses. Mostly there are offered 4 or 5 course types:

G–Course for humanities

W–Course for economics

M–Course for medicine

T–Course for technique

S–Course for philology

In all the courses German is a obligatory subject and the language of instruction is German in all subjects. At Studienkollegs the German language course for the absolute beginners will be not offered. The college students must have good knowledge in German at the time of access to the Studienkolleg. Moreover for the T-Course the good knowledge in mathematics is required. However the knowledge of school program in mathematics should have every applicant. As besides German Test, the applicants have to pass also mathematics. Besides the college students learn the skills and abilities, so named key qualifications. These are: working with the text resources, writing of the argumentative and analyzing texts and composing of the simple seminar works, the structured writing down on the lectures. After the 2 semester study the college students have to pass the asserting final exam, through which will be asserted, that you have the subject specific knowledge on the level of Abitur. With the successfully passed exam the college students apply for the study place at a preferred university.

REQUIRED DOCUMENTS FOR APPLICATION

The standard requirements are as follows:

- Officially notarized and translated document of qualifications for the entry to higher education with the records overview (high-school graduation certificate).
- Officially notarized and translated document of all acquired university grades with the records overview
- Officially notarized certificate of the university entrance exam – if such an exam is required in your home country
- Officially notarized copy (even if it is in German) of a certificate proving your knowledge of the German language (TELC B2 language certificates or similar).
- Curriculum vitae
- Motivation letter
- 3 passport sized photos.

APPLICATION DEADLINES

All above named documents must be submitted completely and in time. There are 2 deadlines for submitting the standard required documents: for winter semester till 15/07/ and for summer semester till 15/01/. The application deadlines to the Studienkolleg vary from university to university, but they generally start 2 months prior to the university deadlines. Students who need a visa for Germany, need to contact us in advance, so we can issue an appropriate invitation for the embassy and other documents required. The placement and administration fee for one-time application per semester is: 675 € (for Bachelor degree applications).

QUALIFICATION FOR UNIVERSITY ADMISSION IN GERMANY

There are some opportunities for foreign school-leavers or students to get the admission for a German university.

Here you can read about standard requirements for getting the necessary qualification for university admission. Within our academic services, we can assist you with the placement to max. 3 universities.

High-school living certificate equal to the German one named Abitur is the most important requirement. Some countries have a similar educational system as Germany (12 or 13 years of school education). The citizens of these countries have direct access to studies at German Universities.

However, the students with a different education system can obtain the equivalent of Abitur by the following ways:

- fill a gap by learning at Study Preparatory College (Studienkolleg) for 1 year
- study at a home university for 1 or 2 years
- to have a diploma (from your country) of absolved degree.

Some exceptions are possible. The universities can require also some additional documents/certificates.

The following requirements refer to the knowledge of German Language and are compulsory:

- to study at a Studienkolleg the students need at least B2 Level to pass the admission test. Verbum Novum offers preparation courses for this test. Students who have TELC B2 or other certificates can be exempted from the examination. It is possible to pass TELC exams in our school in Mainz.
- to study at a university you have to be on C1/C2 Level and pass successfully the DSH-exam. This exam can be passed only at a university. The preparation courses for DSH are offered by our schools in Mainz and Munich. The students can be exempted from the DSH exam, if they provide the TELC C1 Hochschule Certificate or other to the university. The TELC C1 Hochschule exam is possible to pass at the Verbum Novum School in Mainz.

In this case, the course and / or program fees will be retained. The course participant or their legal guardian bears the costs for early departure. Verbum Novum will not give a refund.

§ 7 Visa and Visa Matters

To enter Germany, course participants from countries that require a visa need an invitation from Verbum Novum.

This will be made available to the course participants after the complete payment. After receiving the invitation, the course participant is obliged to make an appointment at the responsible consulate or embassy within 28 days and to send an appointment confirmation to Verbum Novum by e-mail. The course participant must prepare all other documents required for the visa application in good time. Visa processing usually takes at least 8 weeks, in rare cases up to 6 months or longer. Visa approval

After the visa has been approved or the visa has been issued, the course participant is obliged to send a copy of the visa to Verbum Novum by e-mail and to travel to the next possible course, no later than 6 weeks after receiving the visa for the course / level booked.

Visa refusal

In the event that the visa has been refused by the embassy, Verbum Novum requires the embassy / consulate to submit the official rejection notice no later than 2 weeks from the start of the course. In this case, Verbum Novum will reimburse the amount paid except for the processing fee of 150 EUR. Verbum Novum does not cover the bank charges incurred through the transfer. obliged to report any contagious diseases immediately if they occur. Every course participant must be able to present health, liability and accident insurance valid for Germany at the beginning of the course. Verbum Novum offers such an insurance. This can be booked on request or through our website.

§ 9 Duty of supervision and due diligence

With the registration of underage course participants, a parental declaration signed by the legal guardian is required.

Verbum Novum as well as employees, host families, supervisors and other vicarious agents do not assume comprehensive supervision and due diligence for full and minor course participants. Verbum Novum also does not assume any supervision or duty of care for minor course participants in summer and winter camps with accommodation in a residence or host family. Verbum Novum's duty is limited to the immediate notification of the legal representatives.

§ 10 Liability

Verbum Novum is only liable for injuries to life, body or health of the course participants if this is the result of Verbum Novum's fault. Verbum Novum assumes no liability for the loss of personal belongings.

§ 11 Security deposit

In the event of damage, the course participants bear all costs for the replacement of the objects damaged by them negligently or willfully. Course participants with accommodation in apartments, host families, residences must pay a security deposit of 50 EUR, which is only retained in the event of damage. If the damage exceeds the deposit amount, additional costs will be charged. If there is no damage, the deposit will be refunded on the day of departure.

§ 12 Data Protection

The course participant agrees that Verbum Novum electronically records and processes their personal data for the proper implementation of the registration, billing and performance verification processes, solely for the purpose of fulfilling the concluded contract. The course participant consents to Verbum Novum to use or have used photo, video and / or sound recordings in the course of the course or program for advertising purposes or the like. If this is not desired, we ask these course participants to stay away from recordings of any kind. This also applies to minor course participants.

Classes

General German lessons usually take place in the mornings. However, if the schoolclassrooms are occupied, lessons can also take place in the afternoons. The changings in course schedule could be possible.

The exam preparation courses usually take place in the afternoons. The one-to-one tuition takes place depending on the availability of the teacher and the course participant.

§ 13 Course / Intensity of the Course

One lesson is 45 minutes. The intensive course comprises 20 lessons of 45 minutes per week.

The duration of each level is fixed and must be adhered to.

The minimum number of participants per course is also specified. Verbum Novum offers the language course for different levels of ability. Classification in the appropriate level for group lessons can only be meaningful on-site on the first day of the class. It cannot therefore be completely ruled out that the placement test, in rare exceptional cases, does not lead to an insufficient number of participants in a level for group lessons (at least 5 course participants) on the first day of school. In this case, Verbum Novum can conduct the course as (semi-) individual tuition or minigroup course in a reduced number of hours, but at least 60% of the duration of a booked group course. The same applies to the exam preparation courses.

§ 14 Absence / absence from classes

The teaching days that are canceled on public holidays (nationwide or state-wide) will not be made up for. The course days that the course participant misses, whether for a reason for which they are not responsible (e.g. illness, travel), cannot be made up (with the exception of individual lessons); the course fee is still to be paid in full.

Failure to attend classes, regardless of the reasons listed here, has no effect on the payment obligation. The one-to-one tuition must be canceled or postponed at least 24 hours before the lesson. Otherwise the lesson is considered to have taken place and cannot be rescheduled.

§ 15 School holidays

The year-round schools are closed for two weeks in winter (Christmas Holidays). The holidays are published on the website. There are no group lessons during these periods. Individual lessons are possible on request. Consultations and registrations are still possible online and / or by email.

telc exams

§ 16 Exam registration / payment / absence from the exam

Verbum Novum is an official telc examination center and telc C1 Hochschule competence center. Registration for the exam must be made no later than 30 days before the exam date. After registering, the exam participant is obliged to pay within 3 days of receiving the invoice. Failure to pay the exam fee does not mean automatic deregistration and exemption from payment. The deregistration requires a written form.

Withdrawal is possible no later than 30 days before the examination date. After that, the full fee will be charged.

If you fail to appear on the day of the exam without a valid reason, the fee will not be reimbursed.

The valid reason is in acute cases of illness with a medical certificate and a certificate of incapacity for work from the doctor. The original should be submitted to Verbum Novum after 2 days at the latest. In such cases, the 50% exam fee will be reimbursed. The telc examination regulations are published on our website.

§ 17 Exclusion of Liability / Limitation of Liability

1. Insofar as liability is excluded or limited in these General Terms and Conditions, this also applies to the personal liability of vicarious agents and representatives.

Verbum Novum is only liable for intent and gross negligence, unless damage is based on injury to life, limb or health or Verbum Novum has assumed a liability obligation in the sense of a guarantee. In addition, Verbum Novum limits contractual claims for damages, which do not concern physical injuries, to three times the booking price,

– as long as damage to the course participant is not caused intentionally or through gross negligence or

– Insofar as Verbum Novum is responsible for damage suffered by the course participant solely due to the fault of a service provider.

Verbum Novum cannot accept any liability for the loss of private items in classrooms. The course participant is responsible for the damage caused to the facility or the classrooms

§ 18 Right of Withdrawal

According to Section 312g (2) No. 9 BGB, there is no right of withdrawal for the services offered by Verbum Novum. The travel cancellation and termination rights described above apply.

§ 19 Place of fulfillment and place of jurisdiction

Mainz is agreed as the place of performance and jurisdiction.
